DR. WILLIAM CARSON BLACK
Past Grand High Priest.

The Grand Chapter of Masons held its meeting at Louisville, Ky., Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, with Dr. William Carson Black, of this city, presiding as Most Excellent High Priest. He has made one of the best showings in this capacity than any other one preceeding him, he delivered his address last Tuesday evening in the Masonic Theater, which is in part as follows:

Address of Grand High Priest

M. E. Grand High Priest Wm. Carson Black delivered the following address:

To the Companions of the Grand Chapter of Kentucky:—

We are mindful of the fact that as we approach within three short links of a Masonic life, that with each step of time we are drawn nearer to the Alpine of enlarged power, numerical strength, and with vastly greater possibilities before us. From the day that James Moore occupied the Grand East, as our first Grand High Priest, down to this good year of our Lord, nineteen-hundred-and-fourteen, perhaps we have never assembled in annual convocation as Grand Officers, Past Grand High Priests, Representatives and Companions under more auspicious or brighter prospects.

This spirit of progress, planted in our very midst, is as a dove of the morning presages good tidings of peace and plenty, of arch building and adroitness as we count our Chapters 113, and our membership quite ten thousand. While the Grand Architect of the Universe has led us on our way, and holiness to the Lord is on the tongue and in the heart of every true Mason and man, that America, home of the free and land of the brave, is at peace with the entire world, and that no internal strife or turmoil appear upon the horizon to break down our walls of civilization, of governmental supremacy, of educational enlightenment, of sacredness of home ties and family union, and pile them upon the ruins of madness and greed as an altar to selfishness, destruction and despair.

We have this blessed assurance that with us "All is Well," but with our Companions and peoples of distracted Europe a chapter of events wholly different from this is the daily record of occurrences. May they look up speedily to the Angel of Light for a quick and satisfactory settlement of their inflammatory disturbances, and, as violence is of time, that "peace on earth, good will toward men" will rend the air and herald a resume of peace and industry with all the warring nations of Continental Europe, and also with our neighbors below the Rio Grande.

OUR DEAD

This Grand Chapter, like any other large body of men, will lose by death with each year many of its members, and, as the rule of expectancy, the grim reaper, since last we met in annual convocation, has gathered unto His own many of our Companions, workmen on the Mansion of Truth, and as we all have reason to believe that their work was "good, true and square," they have gained a firm abode in that beautiful city beyond the skies.

Although our official family remains blessed in health and each Grand Officer is filling his station here tonight, yet there are two most notable vacancies on the stage this evening in the demise of Past Grand High Priests Henry Bostwick and John W. Landrum. These good Companions have passed down the narrow path of Time to the gate called Faith, which opens upon the broad plain of Salvation, leading its happy pilgrims pass and upward to that eternal realm of joy and peace where their labors will continually enlarge and glorification become blessedly supreme.

I trust that I have kept the faith, and as an instrument in your hands, in a measure, at least, accomplished some good for the Craft. If in my seven-thousand-mile journey throughout the jurisdiction I have here and there sown seeds of enthusiasm and zeal into a receptive soil prepared by personal attention and application, I will then count my ground secure and my ambition realized. I shall very soon step back into the ranks of workmen, from whence I came, and with a ready hand to continue in the active and plain service of the Royal Craft. I trust that the Grand Chapter of Kentucky will ever blossom as the rose, be a boon and

A REQUEST

Our correspondents are requested to send in their matter not later than Wednesday of each week, as we cannot get these matters in when received on Thursday, or Friday morning.

IN HONOR OF PROF PORTS

Last Friday evening the science classes of Union College entertained in honor of Prof Ports, the Faculty, Revs Wm Jones, O G Ragan, S F Kelley and Mr A M Decker. After some interesting games in the laboratory refreshments were served in the hall joining the laboratory. In serving, receptacles from the laboratory were used. Chocolate was served in test tubes, tweezers were used instead of forks, and jello was served on lantern slide mounts. The souvenirs of the occasion were tadpoles preserved in formalin.

This proved a very delightful occasion, and one which the members of the class hope will help to prove to Prof Ports their gratitude to him and good wishes for his success and happiness.

LOVING CUP

After the devotional exercises in chapel at Union College, Wednesday morning, Rev E R Overley gave a very helpful and interesting talk on Friendship, at the close of this he presented to Prof Ports, who is soon to leave the school having resigned his position as President, a loving cup. This was a gift from the faculty, students and friends of Prof Ports and the college, who are grateful to him for the splendid service he has rendered the school and its patrons. Not a few are exceedingly sorry to have him leave.

FACULTY PICNIC

Last Monday afternoon the faculty of Union College gave an automobile picnic at the Fair Ground in honor of Prof and Mrs Ports. A camp fire was built over which a camp dinner was cooked, and the meal was served and disposed of in true camp style. The automobiles for the occasion were furnished by Charlie Black, R H Newitt, Vader McDonald and A D Smith.

FOOD SALE

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church will hold a food sale on Wednesday before Thanksgiving. They will have on sale on that date everything that is good to eat and will be glad to serve all their friends. Pies, Cakes, ice cream, Chicken and many other good things to eat. Come in and get your Thanksgiving dinner. Place of sale to be announced later.

"Little Girls, Look Here"

Who Wants a $20 Doll
FREE?

We have two $20 dolls and two $10 dolls we will give to our little girl friends absolutely FREE. Here is our plan: Get your neighbors and friends to trade at our store and vote for you, every cent counts one vote and every dollar, one-hundred votes, every cash purchase and payment on accounts gets you votes. The two girls getting the largest number of votes each, will receive a $20 doll; the next two getting the largest number of votes will receive each a $10 doll. The next two getting the largest number of votes each one Rocking Chair worth $2.50 each.

This contest opens November the Second and closes on December the twenty-fourth, at 6 p. m. There will be a sealed ballot box in each of our stores that will remain closed until the close of the contest. Three business men, one from each Bank and Read P. Black, will open and count the ballots, and prizes will be awarded to the lucky ones. Boys, get busy and help the little girls get one of these handsome gifts; parents encourage the little girls to hustle for these prizes. No near kinkfolks will be allowed to enter this contest.

REMEMBER OUR PRICES WILL REMAIN AS LOW AS EVER.

Those who do not want to vote in this contest, can save their tickets and receive premiums same as has long been our plan.

EXPLANATION HOW TO VOTE.—Write the little girl's name plainly across the Register Ticket and drop it in the box. The number of votes will be printed thereon.

AN OUTRAGED PEOPLE

Last Saturday, the 24th, there was a Circus in town. This aggregation was billed as "Kit Carsons' Buffalo Ranch Wild West Show, and we venture the assertion, that if "Kit" knew of the rotten core wrapped up in this bunch he surely would have turned over in his grave.

This was their last performance and after dark, when the show had been loaded on the cars, they began to pay their laborers, in the first place they had torn up a sidewalk for one of our citizens, and refused to pay for it, but he proceeded to the court, took out an attachment for his money which they paid, after the Officers had proceeded to unload a horse which had been loaded.

They had given notice that they would discharge all employees on this date, and they paid about as follows:—if they owed a man or woman $110.00 they would give them $40.00, if it was $90 they would sometimes pay $15.00, and in most cases they paid less. In some instances the people lived so far that their railroad fare was as much as $50, and these poor people were paid as low as $15, when they were due as much as $90.
Some of them filed suit, and attachment proceedings were issued for them, but they had waited too long, and these people had arranged to be pulled as through freight from this place to Cincinnati, and went ahead of the Passenger train, and made their way through Corbin before the Officers could overtake them.

We have seen many cases of distress, but this beats it all.
Men who had worked for seven long weeks and had not taken up any wages, in the hope to have money to pay their way home at least were turned away by these cold blooded managers at with a very small pittance, and sometimes without anything, many women among them were running about wild with excitement because they were left stranded in a strange land, most of them weeping, more than a hundred colored men, turned loose without one cent, poorly clad, in fact many of them barefooted.

A warrant was sworn out for the Manager, he made good his escape, and these people are left to weep their row, in a strange land, with times hard, and positions hard to find, we say that these people have been treated wrongfully, and that the management ought to be brought to justice and be made to account to the wronged people.

COMPLETE SYSTEM OF STATE ROADS

COMMISSIONER OUTLINES PLAN FOR PUBLIC HIGHWAYS
FOR KENTUCKY.

LOOK INTO THE NEAR FUTURE

Provision for Creation of State Construction Fund—Good System is Now Contemplated.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort, Ky.—A complete system of state highways, with its main stems, connecting county seats, permanently improved first, and radiating from these branch roads linking all parts of each county with the intercounty system, is the purpose of the acts of 1914, providing for state aid in road building and requiring the construction as public works the roads between county seats," said R. C. Terrell, Commissioner of Public Roads.
These inter-county highways will comprise 10 per cent of the total road mileage and handle 80 to 85 per cent of the total volume of traffic. Com-

"Chapter 86 of the Acts of 1914, which is known as the Huff-Brock Bill creating a system of inter-county seat roads and designating them as public works of the Commonwealth, has two definite motives in view:

"The first motive of this law is that the State of Kentucky shall have a uniform system of public highways, which shall be the roads leading from the county seat of each county of the Commonwealth to the county seats of the adjoining counties in this state, and to the state line on the roads leading to the county seats of the adjoining counties in the adjacent states; said roads to be constructed on the most direct and practical route.

"This gives each and every county the same general system of public highways to be constructed under the state aid plan, and no county will have less than four main highways, and most of them as many as five or six.
A system of roads such as outlined in this law not only guarantees uniform construction but through roads leading in every direction from every county seat to the county seats in the neighboring counties, which means a complete system of highways for the entire state. This system comprises about 10 per cent of the total road mileage of the state, and will care for about 80 to 85 per cent of the total volume of traffic.

Must File Certificate.

Affirming the Breckenridge Circuit Court in the case of J. C. Brodie against John P. Haswell and A. R.
Kincheloe, the Court of Appeals, in an opinion by Chief Justice Hobson, said a candidate, and not the officers of the nominating convention, should file his own certificate of nomination, and if they filed it they are simply his agents.
Brodie sued for $4,800 damages. He was nominated for Circuit Clerk in 1909 in the Republican convention, of which Mr. Haswell was chairman and Kincheloe secretary. By oversight, they failed to file Brodie's name with the list of other candidates, and he discovered that omission too late to get his name on the ballot. The other Republican candidates were elected, and he thought by reason of their oversight Haswell and Kincheloe were indebted to him in damages the amount of emoluments of the office he estimated he lost.

Homes Are Wanted.

Homes for about thirty-five white children, sent to the school of reform by the county judges because they had no one to take care of them, are being sought by the state board of prison commissioners. These children are under 12 years old, and Commissioner Conley said they are bright and have no bad habits. The commissioners desire to get them away from the institution, which is intended only for delinquents.

Many Licenses Issued.

Since June 16, when the present motor vehicle law went into effect, the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Thos.
S. Byars, has issued 5,850 automobile licenses, 800 motorcycle licenses and 1,538 chauffeurs' licenses. The motor vehicle licenses issued since that date will expire January 1, when, it is estimated, the state will come in for about $65,000 revenue from this source.

Indictments Are Dismissed.

The two remaining indictments against Secretary of State Creswell charging him with obtaining money from the state in the summer of 1913 by false pretenses, have been dismissed on a motion of Commonwealth's Attorney Victor Bradley.

Child Labor Law.

The enforcement of the Child Labor Law, which prevents children between the ages of 14 and 16 years, being employed in stores and factories without a permit from the school board, and the law affecting women employees, who are not allowed to work more than ten hours a day or sixty hours a week, is a subject of inquiry by State Labor Inspector Harry H. Leslie of Louisville. Mr. Leslie is examining conditions in Lexington and will visit department stores, factories, laundries, cotton gins, etc., and hotels.

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all life in the last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glow that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporaneous history, which Prof. Duruy completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past, lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a same interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

One Perennial Pleasure. Everything in life grows monotonous except pay day.—Florida Times-Union.

Loss by Forest Fires. Forest fires in the United States have caused an average annual loss of 70 human lives and the destruction of $25,000,000 worth of timber.

Paragon of Wives. "Does your wife write you continually for coin?" "No; she's an excellent bridge player. Bless her little heart, she sent me $10 this month on the rent money."

The Modern Woman. "She is an extraordinary woman, you know. She paints, plays, rides horseback, boxes, plays foot ball, golf and is an aviator. It is too bad. If I knew how to darn my own socks I should marry her."

Peace and War. It hath been said that an unjust peace is to be preferred before a just war.—S. Butler.

Africa's Consumption of Cotton. Africa is in third place in the amount of cotton goods consumed. In some sections of Africa 50 per cent of the unbleached cotton goods is with the United States and only 10 per cent with England.

For Show and for Use. Commercially, elephants in India come under two classes—the one of pageantry, the other of utility. Every native prince or nobleman of distinction in India keeps elephants to swell his retinue, while, on the other hand, government officials and private persons, such as timber contractors, etc., require them for work.

Average Prayer.
Faith in prayer is a wonderful thing, but the average man prays for twice as much as he expects to get.

Confidential Chat.
Mrs. Brown—"I saw Mrs. Jones at the club yesterday, and we had the loveliest confidential chat together." Mrs. Smith—"I thought so. She wouldn't speak to me this morning."—Judge.

Dynamite.
Dynamite, inestimably more powerful than gunpowder, is formed by soaking a solid absorbent substance with nitroglycerin. The best absorbent material is found at Hanover, Germany, and is known as "Kieselguhr." When dried, it is a white powder and is said to safely retain more than three times its own weight of nitroglycerin.

Mathematical Discovery.
According to an Italian mathematician, every person in the world could stand comfortably in an area of 500 square miles, while a graveyard about the size of Colorado would bury all of them.

A New View.
"What a nice, kind man Nero was!" "What? Why, the wretch added while Rome burned!" "I know it. He'd probably waited all his life for a chance when he wouldn't disturb any one."

Not interesting.
Some people never seem to realize that it isn't a matter of great general interest, even if true, that they toss around night after night and sleep more than two hours out of the twenty-four.

When Words Burn Deep.
It is with words as with sunbeams—the more they are condensed, the deeper they burn.—Robert Southey.

The Perfect Standard. It is a mistake to set up our own standard of right and wrong, and expect everybody to conform to it. The Bible standard is the only perfect one, and we must allow others the same right of interpreting it as we claim for ourselves.—Selected.

Monsters of the Deep. That there are terrible monsters in the deep there can be no doubt. One of these is the whale. It was only in 1908 that a whale devastated the fish traps off Port Townsend, Wash., because the fishermen had captured one of its young. A whaler recently put in port in Liverpool with the arm of an octopus 35 feet long. The arm had been taken from the mouth of a whale he had killed and had stuck in the huge animal's throat. The octopus is doubtless a more fearful animal than the sea serpent.

BEAUTIFUL Lands and Lots FOR SALE!

I have for sale about SIXTY-FIVE ACRES of LAND in and around Barbourville; some of this land is very fine bottom land. A portion of this land is already laid off into City lots, which I will be glad to show you at any time.

I also have FOUR COTTAGES and a LARGE RESIDENCE, and will sell any of this property in small or large lots just to suit you.

I also offer my two STORES, one a Brick on Depot Street; one large frame on Knox Street.

I also have several lots on Allison Avenue, and some land in the Country, including some good Coal Lands.

I can fit up any one with a home, with prices to suit. I also have two enormous stocks of goods at the very lowest prices.

Let me serve you,

Yours truly,

T. F. FAULKNER,
Barbourville, - - - Kentucky.

Skeleton Is Proof.

That California was at one time the home of almost every kind of animal has received further proof by the discovery of a skull and other bones of a huge wild boar in Imperial valley. The find was made on a big ranch, where a tractor plow was breaking up the ground for a cotton field. One tusk of the great pig lacks just a fraction of being 10 inches long. The other is broken.

Triumph of Mutes.

It was but the other day when the triumph of the deaf and dumb faced me. It was a ship just starting from Southampton to Canada. You know the unheard shouts during the last hour from the shore. There were two men, deaf and dumb, talking quietly with their fingers to the brother on board, who could reply. They were the only three that could talk freely among the unheard tumult.—London Chronicle.

Our Shadow.

Everyone of us casts a shadow. There hangs above us a sort of penumbra—a strange, indefinable something—which we call the personal influence, which has its effect on every other life on which it falls. It goes with us wherever we go. It is not something we can have when we will, as we lay aside a garment. It is something that always pours out from our life like light from a lamp, like heat from a flame, like perfume from a sower.—J. R. Miller.

His Natural Thought.

A South Dakota railroad is noted for its execrable rounders. A new brakeman was making his first trip over the road at night and was standing in the center of the car, grimly clutching the seats to keep erect. Suddenly the train struck a smooth place in the track and slid along without sound. Seizing his lantern, the brakeman ran for the door. "Jump for your lives!" he shouted. "She is off the track!"

Cooks Held in High Honor.

There is no better proof of the delicacy of the Greek palate than the honor in which cooks were held. They plied their trade with the greatest freedom, and, not being attached to this master or that, they were called in by the rich on occasions of brilliant festivity. What wonder then the cook's was a respectable profession, becoming a free man?

Suffering From the Remedy.

Traveler (to disconsolate fellow voyager, at steamship's rail)—"My dear old fellow! What's the matter? The sea's like a duck-pond!" "I know, old boy—but I've taken six different remedies."—Punch.

Material for a Fool.

Sir George Warrington, who was once obliged to put on a dinner party in consequence of the death of a relative, and sat down to a banquet of venison by himself, said to the butler while eating: "John, this will make capital hash tomorrow." "Yes, Sir George," replied the servant, "if you leave off now."

Sure Test.

"When I wants to be plumb satisfied in my mind dat a stah has done been converted and not duss merely polly-toxin' to be poplar," confessed sage old Parson Baxter. "I takes her husband to one side and tells him to let a wet dog into de parlor de fust time it rains."—Judge.

Childish Wrong Doing.

A child should never be regarded as a criminal, but as a victim of crime. No child can create his own environment. Boys have often been punished for wrong-doing when it would be just about as sensible to whip a child for having diphtheria or typhoid.

Eye of the Eagle.

That the eagle can look into the intense sunlight without blinking is explained by the fact that the bird has a thin transparent veil which it can draw over the eyeball when occasion requires and which tempers the light, but does not obstruct the vision.

Artistic.

"There!" said Mr. Nagg, after a labored explanation of why he had stayed out so late; "I hope this is satisfactory." "It is more than satisfactory," Mrs. Nagg told him, "it is simply beautiful."

Pony's Remarkable Jump.

A remarkable feat was performed recently by a polo pony belonging to an officer at Aldershot, England, when it cleared an eight-foot hedge beside a railway embankment. The animal took fright in the village of Weybourne while being ridden by a lad, who was thrown but uninjured.

Attacking School System.

Small Boy—"Father, what is an equinox?" Fond Parent—"What in the world do you go to school for? Don't you study mythology? An equinox is a mythical animal, half horse, half ox. The name is derived from the Latin 'equine,' horses, and 'ox.' Dear me, they teach you absolutely nothing that is useful nowadays!"

Killing Off the Race.

From the Christian era till the present time, as statisticians and historians tell us, there have been less than two hundred and forty warless years. Up to the middle of the nineteenth century it was roughly computed that nearly seven billion men had died in battle since the beginning of recorded history, a number equal to almost five times the present estimated population of the globe.—Christian Herald.

Why Currants Are Good for Us.

Currants, in spite of their rather insignificant place on our bills of fare, are decidedly beneficial to humanity. For their chief constituents, potash, tartaric acid—which gives them their sharpness—and grape sugar, all easily digested substances, all have value. English dietists, especially, harp on the health-preserving qualities of this small fruit.

Training.

"I say, old man," inquired Balbriggan; "what are you putting those toothpicks down your back for?" "Just getting in training," replied Flanely, "to wear my flannels, old fellow."

She Was Not Worrying.

Old Husband—"What was he doing the other night—that young masher? He seemed to be edging up pretty close to you." Young Wife—"I don't know—I never worry about other people's business."—Life.

Still Believe in Charms.

A London physician practicing in the poorer districts of that city says that 25 per cent of the children coming under his observation wear charms and amulets under their clothing.

Had the Wrong Place.

Automobilist (calling garage after an accident)—"I guess you will have to send for me. I have turned turtle." Attendant—"Say, this is the garage; you want the aquarium."—Telephone News.

Things That Inspire.

A great integrity makes us immortal; an inspiration, an admiration, a deep love, a strong will, lifts us above fear. It makes a day memorable. We say we lived years in that hour.—Emerson.

Idle Suggestion.

"You ought to typewrite your poetry," said the harsh editor. "Great Scott!" replied Mr. Penwiggle; "if I were expert enough to do that kind of typewriting do you think I'd be putting in my time on poetry?"

Now They Don't Speak.

"He seems determined to kiss me," remarked the girl who was fishing for a compliment. "I wonder why?" "Hard to tell," said the other girl. "This is the season for freak bets."—Pittsburgh Post.

Sherlock Holmes.

Sherlock Holmes was not a real character, but a creation of Conan Doyle's fancy; although, of course, the novelist's creation has had actual prototypes enough in this "wicked world of ours."

Thief Was Too Fat.

An amusing feature of a theft case, which was recently tried at Aberdeen, was that in his attempt to break into the cellar of the station refreshment rooms, accused stuck in a window. He could neither get in nor out, and it was in this fix that he was caught.

Cause of the Trouble.

"Didn't marry her, eh? I suppose you were afraid you could not support her in the style to which she had become accustomed?" "Oh, no, I was not at all afraid of that." "Then why didn't—" "It was she that was afraid I could not."—Houston Post.

Had the Right Idea.

The tailor's sign in a little inland town was an apple—simply an apple. The people were amazed at it. They came in crowds to the tailor, asking him what on earth the meaning of the sign was. The tailor, with a complacent smile, replied: "If it hadn't been for an apple, where would the clothing business be today?"

House-Fly Lifting Power.

A house-fly, held by the wings and brought close to a match, lifted it up with its feet. To perform a proportionate feat, a man would have to lift a beam 26 feet long and 13 inches thick.

Shingles From Tree Stumps.

The stumps of the great trees which have been cut in the Northwest are now being utilized for shingles. Ten thousand have been made from one stump.

As Ruth Saw It.

Of course little Ruth should have been able to answer more precisely when the teacher asked her to describe a frog. But she gave a description that at least is picturesque when she replied: "A frog, teacher, is a big green bug with warts all over it. And it keeps its mouth open all the time, and—and it's always sitting down behind and—and standing up in front."

Old People in Law Suit.

The entire provincial court of Saragossa, Spain, transferred itself for a week to the village of Ateca to hear a trivial case of fraud because of the remarkable age of the persons concerned in it. All of the 11 defendants were between eighty-five and ninety-five years old, and 14 of the 22 witnesses were over ninety. One of the witnesses was one hundred and one years old.

Daily Optimistic Thought.

Who tells his own secret will hardly keep another's.

American Fishes.

The fishes of America north of the Isthmus of Panama embrace three classes, 30 orders, 223 families, 1,113 genera, 335 sub-genera, 3,263 species and 133 sub-species.

Natural Result.

"He was always too proud." "He has swallowed his pride." "What has happened to him?" "He's busted." "He might have known if he ever swallowed his pride it would bust him."

Earth's Diameter.

What is the greatest diameter of the earth? "At the equator," is the common answer; this is not strictly true, for the actual diameter is modified by conditions on the surface. According to the eminent Professor Henkey, the greatest diameter is that taken from the summit of Mount Chimborazo, in Ecuador, 20,136 feet above sea level. The line drawn about the earth from this point emerges on the opposite side on a high point on the coast of Sumatra, giving a diameter of 7,929 miles.

Confirmed Testimony

The Kind Barbourville Readers Cannot Doubt

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS have stood the test.
The test of time—the hardest test of all. Thousands gratefully testify. To quick relief—to lasting results. Barbourville readers can no longer doubt the evidence.

It's convincing testimony—twice-told and well confirmed.
Barbourville readers should profit by these experiences.

J. W. Tuggle, Main Street, Williamsburg, Ky., says: "I had a dull pain in the small of my back and the kidney secretions became unnatural and too frequent in passage. I had read about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. I got a supply. I was not disappointed with the results. They quickly drove away the pains and aches and restored my kidneys to their proper working order. It gives me pleasure to confirm what I said about Doan's Kidney Pills in my former endorsement of them. The cure they gave me has been permanent."

RECITAL

Tuesday evening at 8:00 in Union College Chapel the department of Expression and the Music department rendered a joint recital.

The large Chapel was filled to its capacity, and a nice program was rendered. The readings by the Expression pupils speaks for the earned work and untiring training by Miss West. The musical numbers were rendered in a masterly way.

Hallow-eeen' is drawing nearer and nearer, and the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church is working and working and planning and planning to give a Hallow-eeen' Social that will make you "laugh and grow fat," but if you are already fat you will "smile and grow slim." How does that strike you? The Ghosts and the Witches do not guarantee this, but they do guarantee a good time and plenty of "eats."

The place is the Robsion Building, on the West Side of the Public Square. Come early and stay late. Proceeds go to the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church

Kentucky Woman, Sufferer From Stomach Ills, Quickly Restored

MRS. BELLE HAWKINS USES MAYR REMEDY—"NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE."

Mrs. Belle Hawkins, Eminence, Ky., was a victim of stomach disorders. She took a great deal of treatment and medical attention.

At last she tried Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and got real results. In a letter telling of her experience, she said:

"I have taken all of the medicine I ordered of you and will say it has done more good than all the doctors and medicine I ever tried. I don't really think I need any medicine now, as I think I am well. I never felt better in my life. If I ever should need any medicine I know where to get it."

That is a typical letter, taken as one among the thousands from the users of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The first dose proves—no long treatment.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to the HERNDON DRUG CO. drugstore and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing, or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.—Adv.

TO MY SUCCESSOR

Here's a toast I want to drink to a fellow I'll never know,

To the fellow who's going to take my place when it is time for me to go

I've wondered what kind of a chap he'll be and I've wished I could take him by the hand

Just to whisper "I wish you well old man," in a way he'd understand;

I'd like to give him the cheering word I've longed at times to hear

I'd like to give him the warm hand clasp when never a friend seems near,

I've learned my knowledge by sheer hard work and I've wished I could pass it on,

To the fellow who'll come to take my place, some day when I am gone.

NOTICE

I will on Nov. 7th, 1914, file a petition in the Knox County Court for the establishment of a public road on the Buckeye Fork on Stinking Creek. Acting Road Engineer, K. C.

NO PATENT ON THIS

An Iowa farmer has devised a rat trap upon which he claims no patent but which any one troubled with rats can use. He purchased a big galvanized iron bucket—or garbage pail—and placed it in the barn. He filled it two-thirds full of water and on top of the water a layer of chaffy oats an inch deep. The next morning he emptied out mixture of water and drowned rats. He re baited his trap and the next morning he figured results and found that he had a single rat with malice aforethought, gotten rid of eighty-nine rats. He declares it will rid a barn in a short time.

SUPPLEMENT TO MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE

WAR IN THE EAST, PANIC IN THE WEST; GOD SAVE US FROM THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

NO ONE SHOULD EAT HUMBLE PIE, BUT ALL SHOULD GET TOGETHER

Governor Willson Makes Earnest Appeal To Voters—Democratic Party Never Progressive

Voters Can Join Hands To Oppose the Policy Which Has Thrown Out of Employment More Than Half a Million Working Men and Put Another Million On Half Time—Republican Protection Builds Up

In opening his campaign for the senatorship at Louisville recently, Gov.
Willson said in part:

"The votes against the Democratic party in 1912 were 1,360,961 more than those for it, but the Republican family quarrel split the majority vote.
There were two sides to the quarrel and it will do no good to blame either side. There were splendid Republicans on both sides of the split, but they were and are Republicans.

"I realize how little any one man can do, but each must do all that he can, and so I say earnestly that the Republican party—our seven millions of Republicans so lately divided—are still against the Democratic party, its rule and its theories of government;
that they are still in the majority,
that they are still Republicans in principle, and that the division was not on principle.

"It is sure that the Democratic party would not have ruled this country but for the Republican split, and it is just as sure that it will continue to rule this country for two years and five months more of Woodrow Wilson's administration, and after that until all opposed to it unite.
It is no use for either side to say that we won't do what we have to do. No one need eat humble pie, but all who wish to turn the Democrats out must get together. And the question is how long we shall stand the present rule and when and how we shall unite, not as Taft Republicans nor as Roosevelt Republicans, but just as Republican Republicans, under the time-honored name for all who are against the Democratic party.

"Every man who delays now puts off the day of our deliverance and continues our subjection to partisan tyranny, abuse and hardship.

"When we all voted together in the Republican party it was the true progressive party. The old Democratic party is not now, never was and never will be truly progressive.

"Why cannot all of us, who earnestly oppose Democratic rule, low tariff, high income tax inflation and the 'war tax' to pay deficiencies created by excessive appropriations and tariff reductions before the war, come together, without treaties, apologies or surrender of any cherished conviction or principle.

"We can all unite as Republicans because we all are Republicans. It is not as easy to unite as 'Progressives' because only a party of us ever were 'Progressives.' The name of the Republican party as the established opposition to the Democratic party for sixty years, is worth two or three millions of votes in any election. Why should we take a name that belongs to only part of us instead of a name that is our own and belongs to all of us?

"We can join to oppose the policy which has thrown out of employment more than half a million working men and put a million on half time, and turned American wages, trade and business to foreign countries and to foreign working men.

"We can unite in rebuking the President for putting Mr. Bryan in a position of power and dignity after his leadership was rejected by an overwhelming majority of our people for twelve years in three national elections.

"We can unite cordially and gladly to amputate the Democratic party from the White House, from the control of Congress and thousands of offices and from partisan federal control of all our business affairs. And we can unite to oppose the mis-called
'war tax.'

"And we shall get together without treaties, or surrenders, when we stop putting temper above judgment.
When we realize that the Republicans on both sides were honest, earnest, loyal and faithful to their country, its government and the principles for which they have always stood.

"Can we not all, now and here, highly resolve to wipe out hate and abuse, to extend the glad hand and helping hand to every neighbor and brother, to put aside the faults and mistakes from which neither side has been free even in their own con-sciences, and that Kentucky shall be the good, old-time warm-hearted glorious Kentucky?

"After all, we are all at heart, one people, Republicans and Democrats, honest and patriotic and inspired by the same worthy motives. But we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that a Democratic victory always has spelled hardship and national depression.

"I never treat any man or his opinion, political or religious, with disrespect. I ask for myself only what I give to every man, and treat every man with consideration and respect—of course our Democratic neighbor is just as sensible and patriotic as we are.

"But we have learned by sad and oft repeated experience that the Democratic party, made up of these good men, now in the fifth and worst experience of all, draws the fateful line between theory and practice and has settled it for the last time and forever—that the Democratic party never could and never can conduct any governmental business, national or state, even fairly, much less well.

"It did seem that trying it four times was enough and we never would try it again, and really, we never did try it again, directly, for in 1912 an immense majority was still against it, but the personal quarrel split the majority and the Democratic minority won, so that we are going through another fifth trial without ever having meant to do it, when an overwhelming majority intended no such thing, and all are seriously hurt, shocked, overwhelmed and discouraged at the result.

"Our first and greatest need is a starter for business and a stopper for the Democratic party. There are enough of us to accomplish both if we unite.

"It is no longer a question of conflicting theories, but a question of the complete collapse of business institutions and means and chances of making a living, of earning our bread and butter, right in the midst of the greatest crop of all time and human history. The Democratic theory has been demonstrated to be not merely mistaken, but ruinous, nor ruinous alone to the Republican North, but allike to the Democratic South, to the commercial and manufacturing East, and to the agricultural, mining and manufacturing West and Midland.

"Let us extend the hand of good fellowship to every one who has voted with us. We were always glad to extend it to a Democrat, why not to a brother Republican who has for a time taken issue with his friends? In politics as in courting, two is company, and three is a crowd. This is no time to quarrel over platform planks, with the country going to ruin. I will build you a platform. My first plank is to defeat the present Democratic nominee for Senator. You will agree to that no matter to which faction you belong. My second plank is for a protective tariff equal to the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad. We can agree that the high cost of living has not gone down, but has gone up, while the means of earning the money to pay for the cost of living has gone down. As some one said, instead of making the dollar go further than it ever did before, the Democrats have made it go so far that it is 'like a dog made into sausage meat, gone forever.'
If we stay split we stay whipped and deserve it.

"Now we are going to get together, it is coming, has to come, we cannot live without jobs or on half time and can we not all agree that it has come, is here and we have all got together?

"Our depression and deficit had all fallen upon us before there was any war in Europe. The revenues were cut down, excessive appropriations, two hundred million dollars a year more than ever before were being enacted and the bankruptcy of the treasury was in plain view long before the war."

GOV. AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON

Augustus E. Willson, of Louisville, Ky., Republican candidate for United States Senator from Kentucky, long term, beginning March 4, 1915, is well known to Kentucky and the nation. He is a Kentuckian, having been born in Maysville, Mason County. He completed his education at Harvard College, and entered upon the practice of his profession in Louisville. He was for a while the law partner of Col. John M. Harlan, afterwards Supreme Court Justice Harlan. He served as Chief Clerk of the United States Treasury in 1875-6. He early became prominent in the councils and leadership of the Republican party, and as the Republican candidate made several races for Congress in the Louisville district. Although the odds were overwhelmingly against him, his fights were notable, and in at least one race he was beyond question fairly elected to Congress and was only deprived of his seat by the perpetration of the grossest, admitted, frauds against him. He was delegate to five Republican National Conventions.
In 1907 Mr. Willson was the unanimous nominee of the Republican State Convention for Governor, and made a magnificent campaign, which resulted in his election by a majority of more than 18,000 votes and the election of all his associates on the State ticket. He carried his home city, Louisville, by more than 9,000 votes. His record as Governor (1908-1912) was clean, strong and patriotic. He upheld law and order in the state, and by his vetoes and strong stand for economy defeated the wholesale extravagances attempted by Democratic legislatures.

In the August primary of 1914 he was a candidate for, and received, the Republican nomination for Senator, long term.

Gov. Willson is a magnificent campaigner and vote-getter. His fine integrity, his life-time of unselfish public service, his pleasant relationship with the voters of all political parties, and his splendid record as Governor make him an ideal candidate in the "Back to Prosperity" fight now being waged in Kentucky. Thousands of Democrats supported him in the Governor's race in 1907, and thousands of Democrats and Progressives will support him in his race for the Senate.
In 1877 Gov. Willson married the daughter of Gen. James A. Ekin, U. S. Army, and ever since their marriage they have resided in Louisville, with the exception of their four years' residence in the executive mansion at Frankfort.

THE TOWN IS ON FIRE

Defenseless and despairing Democrats charge the Republicans with raising the cry of "panic." Would they have us stand by like a lot of blooming idiots and watch the town burn up and not "holier" fire!

THE DEMOCRATIC DONKEY

So the old Democratic donkey has at last been made to render some useful service. Some patriotic Democratic Louisville butchers are relieving the party from the odium of soup houses by feeding the great army of the unemployed on mule meat.

Voters, Remember!

The Democratic politicians promised in 1912 to increase prosperity and decrease the cost of living; they have destroyed prosperity and increased the cost of living.

The Democratic politicians in 1912 promised more economy and less taxes. They have provided less economy and more taxes, including war tax in time of peace.

The Democratic politicians in 1912 promised to exempt American coastwise vessels from Panama Canal tolls; they repealed the law providing such exemption at the behest of foreign nations.

The Democratic politicians in 1912 promised to smash the Trusts and boost legitimate business; They have smashed business and the Trusts are still doing business at the old stand.

The Democratic politicians in 1912 promised a better market for the farmers' products, and have given away their home market to the producers of foreign lands.

The Democratic politicians in 1912 promised social justice, and have done three million American wage earners the terrible injustice of taking away their jobs in order to furnish jobs for workers in foreign lands.

The issue of 1914 is bread and butter and a chance to earn it. Swat the politicians who played you for a sucker in 1912.
Don't waste your vote on an also-ran party. Vote the straight Republican ticket and see the wheels go 'round again.

PRELIMINARY TO COMING CAMPAIGN

Vice-President Chas. N. Fairbanks Speaks To Large and Enthusiastic Audience

BUSINESS IS DEMORALIZED

Striking Parallel Between Conditions
To-day and Those Which Existed in 1894—Republican Party Stands Unrivalled as the Progressive Party of America—Democratic Pledges Are Not Kept.

Speaking to a large and enthusiastic audience in the Masonic Theater in Louisville, Mr. Fairbanks said in part:

The campaign in which we are engaged is merely preliminary to the great national campaign two years hence. Republican victory now will have very special significance and will make easier the next great contest for national supremacy.

Our demoralized business conditions which existed before the European war are appealing everywhere for the triumph of the Republican cause. This is merely a repetition of history not many years ago. We find a striking parallel between conditions to-day and those which existed in 1894.

We find to-day everywhere among wage earners and capitalists a thorough determination to end the present uncertainty and to strike down the policies inaugurated by the Democratic party which have produced hard times, curtailed the pay roll and generally unsettled business.

The Republican party stands unrivalled as the progressive party of America. Throughout its whole career it has been constructive and in the best sense progressive.

It has never been moved to rash-ness by the hysteria of the hour, nor has it failed to grapple with the most difficult problems which lay in our pathway. Its administration of public affairs has been characterized by sanity of judgment and by success.

Industrial competition between nations is chiefly a competition between wages paid. Those nations paying the lowest wage would bring our wages to practically their low level were it not for the Republican system of protection. We do not claim that Republican tariff laws are absolutely flawless; we insist, however, that they are more nearly perfect than Democratic Free Trade.

Fortunately, in comparing Republican and Democratic tariffs we are not left to mere guess work or unsupported assertion; abundant experience has shown the beneficial effects of the former and the injurious results of the latter. Republican protection builds up; Democratic Free Trade tears down. Republican tariffs give work and wages to workmen in this country, while Democratic tariffs increase the work and wages of men in other countries. The former are American, the latter are un-American.

Democratic Pledges Not Kept.

Our Democratic friends came into power under a distinct pledge to reduce the number of offices, cut salaries and inaugurate economy in government. Have they kept the pledge which they solemnly made? We may search in vain for its fulfillment; for the present Congress holds the record of large appropriations. It has appro-riated, or will appropriate, more than $100,000,000 in excess of the preceding Congress. And were it not for the sharp Republican opposition which the administration encountered in both branches of Congress the appropriations would have been much larger than they have been in many millions of dollars. We have to thank the Republican minority and not the Democratic party for such limitation upon expenditures as has been made. The exigencies of the campaign alone restrained the latter from making further unjustifiable raids upon the public treasury.

Congress is working overtime in an earnest effort to raise $100,000,000 annually by increasing taxes here and there and by searching for new subjects of taxation. No matter what the form of the additional tax shall be, no matter whether it is upon one industry or many, it must ultimately come out of the pockets of the entire people.

This enormous sum is made necessary because of the millions upon millions of dollars which we have thrown away in the reduction or entire removal of tariff duties on competitive products. I say unnecessarily because the reduction or removal of duties has not lowered the cost of the products affected to the American consumer.
When the authors of the Underwood law with a prodigal hand put many articles on the free list and reduced the duty on others our foreign competitors, being men of keen commercial instinct, added to the cost of their goods the amount of the concession, so that while we have lost millions of revenue, our consumers have not benefited, the lost revenue has simply gone into the pockets of our competitors in other lands.

NATION IN SMALL HANDS

Critically surveying the work of the Wilson administration, whose commission to rule is not from a majority of American voters, but through temporary division of those voters who agree upon the great principles of protection and sound business principles, the observer, though a Republican, can scarcely repress without regret that free silver and Bryanism have driven most of the really great men out of the Democratic party or retired them from active leadership.
It would be manifestly unfair to impeach the good faith or integrity of the President or a majority of his Congress, but to keep Congress in continuous session for nearly two years grinding out a great mass of new and experimental legislation, whose only effect, so far, is to embarrass business with uncertainty and doubt, is a national disaster of wide proportions.

Noting the narcotic effect of this blundering policy the President subjects himself to ridicule by declaring this unhappy condition to be wholly psychological, and the Secretary of the Treasury childishly threatens the bankers with damaging exposures unless they relieve the financial stringency caused by blundering at Washington.

The Democratic school children have driven the masters from the house and are proceeding to damage the books and smash the furniture.

THE PRESIDENT AND CONFIDENCE

President Wilson, speaking before the Reserve Board, of the bad state of business throughout the country, said:
"My feeling about the present situation is this: The only thing lacking is confidence." Guess you are right, Mr.
President, but why don't you supply the confidence?

The President continued: "We are more nervous than there is cause for, and if we go about business as if nothing were happening, business will take care of us as we take care of it." But, Mr. President, something has happened. You have repealed the protective tariff law and passed an experimental currency law and generally made the future dark, doubtful and uncertain. If it is not your Administration what is it the people lack confidence in?

PENDERGAST RETURNS TO G. O. P.

William A. Pendergast, former Comptroller of the city of New York, one of the pivotal lights of the Bull Moose movement in 1912, and the man who placed Theodore Roosevelt in nomination at the rump convention at Chicago in 1912, has returned to the G. O. P. and is stumping Illinois for the Republican ticket.

Noting the calamity following Republican division two years ago, Mr.
Pendergast says what we need now is "less of the noise of Armageddon and more plain United States."

"DADDY" MAPLE'S PHILOSOPHY

"Daddy" Maple, a saw mill employe at Narrows, a down-state village, is neither a politician nor a philosopher, but his comment on the Democratic panic is worth quoting. After the mill had shut down for want of orders, and the idle men were sitting around the village discussing the hard times,
"Dad" quaintly remarked: "I have gone through wars and I have gone through Democratic administrations, but I'll be d—d if I ever had the hard luck to strike both at the same time before."

THE DEAD MOOSE

The Louisville Herald, commenting on the all-at-once activity of the Democrats in bringing cabinet officers, Senators and Congressmen to Kentucky to speak from a special train, says: "One suspects that the Democracy may have 'smelt a mouse'; but," the Herald continues, "they will discover it is not a mouse but a Moose." For once the Herald is right. The smell of the dead mouse alarms the Democrats, for they must now face a united Republican party in Kentucky,

SECRETARY McADOO ATTEMPTS TO CONCEAL CAUSE OF TROUBLE

With a Congressional election approaching and a big army of unemployed in a state of unrest, the administration leaders are in despair. Secretary McAdoo attempts to conceal the real cause of the trouble by quarreling with individuals for not depositing their money in the banks and with the banks for not lending it.

He says: "There is evidence in some quarters that individuals and corporations are hoarding money. It is just as reprehensible for them to do this as it is for the banks. There is no reason why the people should not deposit their money in the usual way with absolute confidence, and there is no reason why business should not be conducted in the usual way."

Here is admission by the highest Democratic authority that the business of the country is paralyzed. That individuals are afraid to deposit their money in the banks, corporations afraid to extend their business and the banks afraid to loan their money. And yet, Secretary McAdoo insists there is no reason for it and charges it up to the pure cussedness of individuals, corporations and banks. If the Secretary will supply the confidence the country will respond with the business.

PEOPLE BETRAYED BY BALTIMORE PLATFORM

PLATFORM BINDING UPON EVERY HONEST MAN WHO RUNS UPON THAT PLATFORM.

Secretary Bryan, in a speech before the Pennsylvania Legislature nearly one year after Baltimore Convention Lays Down Proposition.

Secretary Bryan, who is, next to the President himself, the highest authority of the Wilson administration, in a speech before the Pennsylvania Legislature nearly a year after the Baltimore convention said:

"I lay it down as a proposition, and I am prepared to defend it anywhere, a representative who secures office upon a platform and holds the office and betrays the people who elected him is a criminal worse than the man who embezzles money entrusted to him. A platform is binding upon every honest man who runs upon the platform." Woodrow Wilson and his Democratic members of the House of Representatives were elected on a platform that read:

"We favor the exemption from tolls of American ships engaged in coastwise trade passing through the Panama canal."

April 2, 1914, 240 Democrats became criminals, if Mr. Bryan is worthy of belief, by voting to repeal the Sim's bill which repealed the exemption clause in the canal act. A few days later if we credit Mr. Bryan as administration authority, President Wilson classed himself with the embezzlers of money by approving the repeal act.

The Democratic platform of 1912 declared positively for the limitation of presidential tenure to one term. Mr. Bryan pleads guilty to his own specification of criminality by endorsing President Wilson for a second term.

GOING GLIMMERING

Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, who was the Democratic leader before Underwood, and who berated his colleagues in the Senate for quarreling over the selection of reserve cities and other matters, declared the party was beginning to do just what it could be counted upon doing every time.

"The poor dear old foolish Democratic party," said the Democratic Senator, "is going through the same game that she can generally be trusted to go through soon after she gets into power." "That is the Democratic party true enough," he continued. "That is its history. That is what led Speaker Tom Reed to say, in 1894 and 1895, 'You can't last long because you are not accustomed to governing anybody or anything; you cannot govern the country because you cannot govern yourselves.'—Washington (D. C.) Post (Dem.)."

WHAT PROGRESSIVES ARE SAYING

Herman Groff, a business man of Terre Haute, Ind., says: "The best interests of the United States demand that all who believe in the policy of protection for American homes and American industries unite in solid opposition to the Democratic party, which is again demonstrating that its governmental policies do not work to the satisfaction and welfare of the people. I was a Progressive in 1912, but I am like unnumbered thousands who, in voicing a protest, did not forsake the cardinal principles of the Republican party. The Republican party has responded promptly to public demand."

TERSELY TOLD

The Cincinnati Enquirer, a Democratic newspaper of national standing, concludes an editorial on "Increasing Taxation" in the following terse and concise language:

"This war tax is not popular. It will be resented by the people. It was not good business judgment to impose it. It was exceedingly bad political action to pass it."

SNAP SHOTS

President Wilson declares the Nation-wide industrial depression is purely psychological. If it is, may the good Lord save us from the concrete form.

National Committeeman Urey Woodson's Owensboro Messenger speaking editorially Jan. 14, 1914, says:

"It is not true, as stated yesterday, that there is a balance in the State Treasury after paying off outstanding interest bearing warrants. There were, Jan. 1st, still $1,659,473.90 of outstanding warrants with only $486,080.99, in the general expenditure fund. The Confederate pensions claims held up and the expenses of the present Legislature will add $1,000,000 to the state's overdraft by March 31."

While it may be justly claimed that the Republican candidates for U. S. Senator are better fitted for the duties of that office than their Democratic opponents, yet the fact should be present to the mind of every voter at the polls that it is the restoration of the government to sound Republican principles and the rebuke of an incompetent and business-wrecking administration that is at stake in the approaching election.

PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATES

For Congress in Fourth District Withdraws.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 19. At a meeting of the Progressive Committee at Elizabethtown last Thursday, Dudley C. Jones, their candidate for Congress, announced his withdrawal from the race and counseled his supporters to vote solidly for the Republican nominee, W. Sherman Ball, of Hardinsburg.

This action was taken after mature deliberation by the meeting and was agreed to by all present.

It was agreed that the Progressive movement had served its purpose and further effort to continue it as a separate organization would result in only giving aid and comfort to the common enemy. The practical disappearance of the Progressive party all over the country as shown by recent elections and registrations, was recognized and a resolution was unanimously adopted to support the nominees of the Republican party.

Mr. Jones is a brilliant young man and his sensible and patriotic conduct in this matter will give him rank among Republican leaders of the state.

AN EFFECTIVE CAMPAIGN

The Indiana State Journal says of Gov. Willson's candidacy for United States Senator:

"Gov. Willson of Kentucky, is making an effective campaign for election as United States Senator in the state of Kentucky, where he is opposing Gov. Beckham, whom he defeated in 1907 for election as governor. The Republicans of Kentucky are thoroughly disappointed, and nearly everywhere throughout the state the Progressives have moved over practically en masse to the Republican camp. Kentucky Republicans feel confident of the election of Gov. Willson, partly because of the evident landslide toward Republicanism, and partly because of Democratic factional division. Gov. Willson is very popular with Indiana Republicans, who are taking a lively interest in his campaign, and expect to hear of his triumphant election on November 3."

THINK IT OVER

Have you read the defense of the administration by the Democratic newspapers, or heard it from Democratic speakers? If you have, do their reasons satisfy you? Think it over. Has it in any way benefited you or your neighbors? We are not arguing; just asking you to answer the question to yourself. Isn't this fair?

RIGHTING A GREAT WRONG

The peace-war tax bill as reported by committee provided for a tax of five cents a gallon on rectified whiskey and twenty-five cents a barrel on beer, but at the last moment our Democratic public servants struck out this odious and burdensome tax on these staple necessities.

WILLIAM MARSHALL BULLITT

William Marshall Bullitt, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator from Kentucky, short term, was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1873, son of Col. Thomas W. and Anna L. Bullitt. He is a graduate of Princeton College, N. J. The Bullitt family, for generations, has furnished to the country lawyers of note, and it was but natural that William Marshall Bullitt should early turn to the law. Upon the completion of the law studies he entered upon the practice in Louisville in 1895 as a partner of his father, and soon distinguished himself. In the celebrated contest cases of Louisville and Jefferson county of 1906, involving the election of Mayor and other city and county officers, he was one of the chief counsel for contestants, and won distinction by his fearlessness, untiring energy and ability in unearthing and overturning the frauds of that election. The result of the contest, as determined by the Kentucky Court of Appeals, a Democratic tribunal, was the finding that the election named was fraudulent, and the ousting of Democratic incumbents who had received certificates of election and who had served for several months, during the pendency of the contest cases. Thereupon a new election was held with the result that a Republican Mayor and an entire Republican city and county ticket was elected in 1907 by large majorities. Mr. Bullitt was thereupon appointed and served as Chairman of the Board of Public Safety, 1907-1909. In this fight for free elections Mr. Bullitt rendered, not only to his city and state, but to the whole country, a great service.

Mr. Bullitt was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1907 and was appointed Solicitor General of the United States by President Taft in 1912, and served until the close of Mr. Taft's administration. He therefore returned to Louisville and re-entered upon the practice of his profession.

In 1913 Mr. Bullitt married Miss Nora Isaght, of Boston, Mass., and they have their home in Jefferson county near Louisville.

ON THE GRIDIRON

DEMOCRACY'S GREAT NEWSPAPER ROASTS THE ADMINISTRATION.

Failures to Keep Faith With the People.

From Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.)

The platform of the Democratic party, adopted at Baltimore in July, 1912, was a wise platform, a sound platform, a progressive platform and a popular platform, as evidenced by the election of a host of Democratic candidates—candidates swept into power by reason of the belief of the people that they would keep the faith pledged in the platform and promised in the campaign.

Every platform pledge that has not been kept constitutes a breach of faith with the voters.

Every departure from the pledges of that platform has been a departure from the interests of the American people.

Every week that passes has demonstrated the wisdom of the men who framed and presented the platform, the sound political sense and good judgment of the members of the convention which adopted it, the good faith and honest intent of the voters who supported it, and the weakness of those who promised to carry out its pledges and failed to do so.

The promise to them was one thing; the performance a totally different proposition.

There was no pledge in that platform that should not have been kept with the American people and the Democratic party, nor the voters of the states of the American Union never authorized any change in the letter or spirit of that platform.

The Senators and Representatives who, elected as Democrats, repudiated the platform and violated the party pledges to the people, assumed a position that can never be justified in political morality, a position which is antagonistic to the spirit of our institutions and destructive of good government, and constitutes a denial of that recognition of responsibility to the voters which is essential in a republic.

Stop! Look! Listen!

WHY are there more than 25,000 honest laboring people idle in Louisville—and upwards of 2,000,000 in the United States?

WHY are factories and railroad shops running half time?

WHY are the earnings of railroads reduced to a point where they can not pay dividends?

WHY are our earnings less and cost of living higher?

WHY are we to be assessed with what is called a WAR TAX when we are at peace with the world?

WHY has the government income been reduced, making a special WAR TAX necessary?

WHY all this idleness, and loss in government income in 1914?

WHY the loss of the industry and prosperity which we enjoyed up to twelve months ago?

There Is a Reason

The DEMOCRATIC party got possession of the Executive and Legislative branches of our government March, 1913, and changed our tariff system from a protective to a NEAR FREE TRADE basis, and put our workmen and manufacturers in direct competition with foreign labor—50c per day in Europe; 7c per day in China.

The war in Europe is not the cause—THAT is an excuse for the result of Democratic legislation.

VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET and put an end to "GOVERNMENT BY EXPERIMENT" and restore confidence, wages and prosperity.

STATE FINANCES AND RESULTS OF REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC RULE

When Governor Beckham turned over the State government to the fiscal officers under Governor Willson, January 6th, 1908, there was a cash balance in the Treasury of $1,190,655. The State fiscal year runs from July to July and not from January to January. At the time of this transfer, therefore, only one-half of the fiscal year had passed and yet Governor Beckham had collected of the total revenue for the whole year $4,533,133.78, leaving only $1,821,077.63 to be collected for the other half of the year by Governor Willson.

Notwithstanding the fact that Governor Beckham had collected $1,356,928.68 more than half of the revenues for the whole year, during the first half of the year, there was due when he turned the government over to Governor Willson January 6th, 1908, $1,389,283 on outstanding warrants, uncollected claims and unpaid appropriations; thus leaving, if all debts had been paid, a deficit in the Treasury of $159,123.

In order to bring about this result Governor Beckham had collected from the United States government during his term, $1,323,939.35 on account of war claims. But for this extraordinary collection, there would have been a deficit of practically a million and a half dollars.

At the close of Governor Willson's term, January 1st, 1912, there was a cash balance in the Treasury of $269,713.94 and there was at that time outstanding warrants amounting to $560,416.57, showing a deficit, after all claims had been audited and paid, of $290,697.63. The reason for this deficit is clear. As stated above, Mr. Willson not only had to pay $1,339,283 in debts inherited from Mr. Beckham's administration, but he had to face the fact also that Mr. Beckham had already collected 73 per cent of all the revenues due for the whole fiscal year, although but one-half of the year had gone by.

In addition to this fact, the Legislature being Democratic, undertook to make appropriations which should consume as much of the revenue of the State as possible and thereby embarrass Governor Willson's administration by leaving no money to pay current expenses. In their efforts to do this, they made specific appropriations which were paid during his term, amounting to $1,544,776.88. They increased annual salaries an aggregate of $170,400 during his term; and also increased annual appropriations to sundry institutions an aggregate of $499,000; thus, in addition to the debt he had to pay for them, burdening his administration with extraordinary payments amounting to $2,234,176.33 without making any provision for their payment.

What are the conditions to-day? On the 10th day of October, 1914, there was a balance in the Treasury of $707,497.62 and there were outstanding warrants against the State aggregating $2,928,416.11, upon which the people are taxed to pay 5 per cent interest, amounting to more than $146,000 a year.

All taxes for state, counties and cities are collected in pursuance of acts of the Legislature and all money paid out of the state treasury are paid under appropriations of the Legislature. The Legislature has never been controlled by the Republicans but Mr. A. O. Stanley said it has been controlled by a lobby in the interest of Mr. Beckham.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS DEMOCRATS RULE

RESULTING IN WIDESPREAD INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION AND HIGHER COST OF LIVING.

Much Optimism Prevails Among Republicans in Regard to the Political Complexion of the House of Representatives to Be Elected This Fall.

In well informed Republican circles much optimism prevails in regard to the political complexion of the House of Representatives to be elected this fall. Eighteen months of Democratic rule, resulting in widespread industrial depression and much higher cost of living, have aroused the voters to the necessity of attention to the business of government and they are turning with confidence to that party whose fitness to govern has been demonstrated throughout the more than fifty years of existence.

Another feature assuring Republican success is the practical disappearance of the Progressives as a party organization. The results of the 1913 elections showed clearly that the Republicans who supported Roosevelt in 1912 were Progressives for a season only and had no intention of permanently separating themselves from the Republican party, and the primaries and registrations of 1914 indicate that the movement has almost entirely collapsed.

A few instances will illustrate the rapid decline and the now practical disappearance of the Progressive party. In 1912 Taft polled in Kentucky 115,512 votes and Roosevelt 102,766. At the November election, 1913, the Republicans polled 125,000 and the Progressives polled 35,000, the greater part of which were polled in the city of Louisville, in the mayoralty contest. This large vote in Louisville is not to be taken, however, as a proper register of Progressive strength. The Republicans made no fight for the municipal offices and several thousand Republicans and Independents voted for the Progressive nominees because they were the only candidates waging an active warfare on the Democratic ticket.

In the August, 1914, primary, the Republican candidates for United States Senator polled 50,223 votes and the Progressive only 3,968, and the recent registration figures show that outside of the city of Louisville they have practically disappeared, registering less than a thousand votes out in the state.

Kentucky will certainly elect three and possibly five Republican members of the next House.

LET EUROPE WORRY

The Federal Reserve Board is just now worrying over providing the gold to pay the $200,000,000 due in Europe to adjust the balance of trade.

If we sell $200,000,000 worth of goods to Europe and buy the same amount from over there, no money necessarily changes hands. But if we buy from Europe more than we sell to it, the balance must be paid in gold. This is what has happened under the Democratic tariff law. Under a protective tariff, we always sold more goods abroad than we bought of it; and let Europe do the worrying over the loss of gold.

Is it possible that endorsement of the Wilson administration is being asked for only by those who are drawing salaries under it? The editorial columns of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times are noticeably barren of any reference to the Democratic candidates, and the Cincinnati Enquirer is openly denouncing both the tariff law and war tax measures as destructive legislation, and demanding their repeal.
